THE ELIZABETH SPRAGUE COOLIDGE FOUNDATION in the Library of Congress observes its twenty-fifth anniversary in 1950. Through the munificence of Mrs. Elizabeth Sprague Coolidge, its founder, it has long been a dominant factor and a creative influence in the furtherance of modern music. As the Coolidge Foundation has stimulated new works by contemporary composers, it has formed a collection of autograph scores which is both distinguished and comprehensive. The establishment of the Coolidge Foundation and its intensive program of activity have made the Library of Congress a world center of chamber music. Its collection of modern musical sources makes it likewise a center for the study of modern musical art.

The autographs described herein are complete unless otherwise specified. The entries have been made brief for practical, rapid use. Works marked with an asterisk are dedicated to Mrs. Elizabeth Sprague Coolidge, many of these being commissioned by Mrs. Coolidge personally; those marked with a dagger were commissioned by the Elizabeth Sprague Coolidge Foundation in the Library of Congress.
